Neckwear and Shirts

IT has been said that women, with all their taste in apparel selection, do not know how to select neckwear and shirts for men. This is not true with those women who go to a "man's store" for the purchasing of men's wear. Here, at least, you cannot go wrong, for nothing will be shown you except such shirts and neckwear as the men themselves would select with satisfaction.

Neckwear, 25¢ to $2.00.
Shirts, $1.00 to $3.00.

Waistcoats

YOU women folks know how much a fine lingerie waist adds to the setting of your suit. The waistcoat bears the same relation in man's attire, and well dressed men, in their vanity, appreciate the privilege of having such a garment to enliven the conventionality of their apparel. In our display you will find the most elegant designs in vogue this season.

$1.50 to $6.00.

Suspenders

MEN do not ask you to shoulder their burdens. We do not expect you to burden their shoulders. Therefore, we sell you the sort of suspenders for their Christmas gift that are comfortable in the wearing and pleasing to the eye. The gift boxes make them even more so. Rich silk effects, as well as the inexpensive sorts, all richly trimmed.

50¢ to $2.00.

H. H. ROLAPP TO BE THE SPEAKER

The Sixth Ward Sunday school extends an invitation to the public to go to the chapel Sunday and observe Christmas morning as the day should be observed.

The services for the day are designed to be short but impressive, the effort being to impress the minds of those present with the idea of Christ as the birthday of Christ, rather than a day of secular celebration.

Hon. H. H. Rolapp will be the principal speaker, and his address will take the time which is usually given to class work, which will be dispensed with for the occasion.

Ernest F. Olson will play the overture from "William Tell"; Misses Dina Brown, Zelpha Arrave, William Pickett and Mr. William Norton will be heard in a quartet.

Mr. George Douglas and Master Albert Olson will sing appropriate Christmas songs.

Instrumental music will be rendered by Misses Ellen, Florence, Rae and Lillian Wright.

The services will begin at 10 a. m. sharp.

MUCH SNOW IN THE EAST

Refraining in a tactful manner from any pessimistic statements concerning the financial conditions in the east, from which he has just returned, David Eccles says that the financiers of New York are whistling to keep up courage.

Mr. Eccles has just returned from a flying trip through the east, spending two days in New York city and three days at Washington, D. C. In an interview with a Standard reporter this morning Mr. Eccles talked freely of the weather conditions in the east and of his trip in a general sort of way, but was less communicative when subjects pertaining to business conditions were broached.

"There was much snow in the streets of New York and Washington," he stated, "and in Washington the President complained to the city government about the snow being allowed to remain in the streets. This was rather an unusual thing for the chief magistrate of the country to take notice of, and the city authorities made reply that the snow was not enough money in the city treasury to pay for the cleaning of the streets." The matter was adjusted, however, before I left Washington, and a great many workmen were busy shoveling and hauling away snow about the time I left for New York.

"It was extremely cold in both cities, and I was glad when I got started on my way west, for the western climate is certainly a great improvement over that of the east."

"What about the financial conditions in the east for the improvement of industrial conditions?" was asked of Mr. Eccles.

"Well, I don't know that it is best to say anything about such things in the papers just now," the Ogden man hesitatingly replied. "I suppose the fight which has been and is being made on the corporations under the Sherman antitrust law is largely responsible for the depression which is being felt in some quarters of the country. It could not help but have some effect on the money market and there is perhaps some fear on the part of many interests in proceeding with some of the financial ventures they had planned. But, as I say, there is no good that can come from complaining, and I am whistling with the rest of them and hoping that conditions will grow better. I think there is reason to hope." Mr. Eccles stated that he would be in Ogden for several days, but that he is expecting to make a trip to Oregon in January.

FIRE IN ROOMING HOUSE.

Bingham, Dec. 23.—Fire broke out in the rooming house of Mrs. A. Langer, near Canyon hall, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, entailing a loss of $1,000 before the flames were finally brought under control.

The blaze was caused by an overheated stove, in a room on the second floor of the building, which had been left with a heavy fire burning, by one of the roomers.

The loss to the building, amounting to about $500, was covered by insurance, while the damage to the contents of the same amount was a complete loss.

The building was owned by Mrs. Mary Olsen of Salt Lake.
